PREFACE

I am pleased to present the 2012 Legal Services Corporation Fact Book. This Fact Book contains selected national data on 2012 LSC program funding; legal services provided to clients by LSC grantees, including services provided through Private Attorney Involvement (PAI); client demographics; and program staffing. Selected historical data from prior years are also included.

The 2012 LSC Fact Book reflects actual data with no extrapolations or estimates. Most of the data are derived from the Grant Activity Reports that LSC-funded grantees are required to submit in February and March of each year reflecting activity in the previous calendar year. The remainder of the data is collected from budget and funding records of LSC grantees.

This year we have updated the Fact Book to make it easier for a wider audience to use and have included trend data to show changes over time. This information offers a national perspective on the resources available to and the services provided by LSC grantees. It presents a useful overview of the work of LSC grantees on behalf of low-income persons in need of civil legal assistance.

We would be glad to respond to any questions you may have and are interested in your comments, including suggestions for other data compilations that would be useful. Please contact John Meyer, Director of LSC's Office of Information Management, at meyerj@lsc.gov or at 202-295-1505. The Fact Book is available on LSC's website at: www.lsc.gov/about/lsc-fact-books.

FUNDING

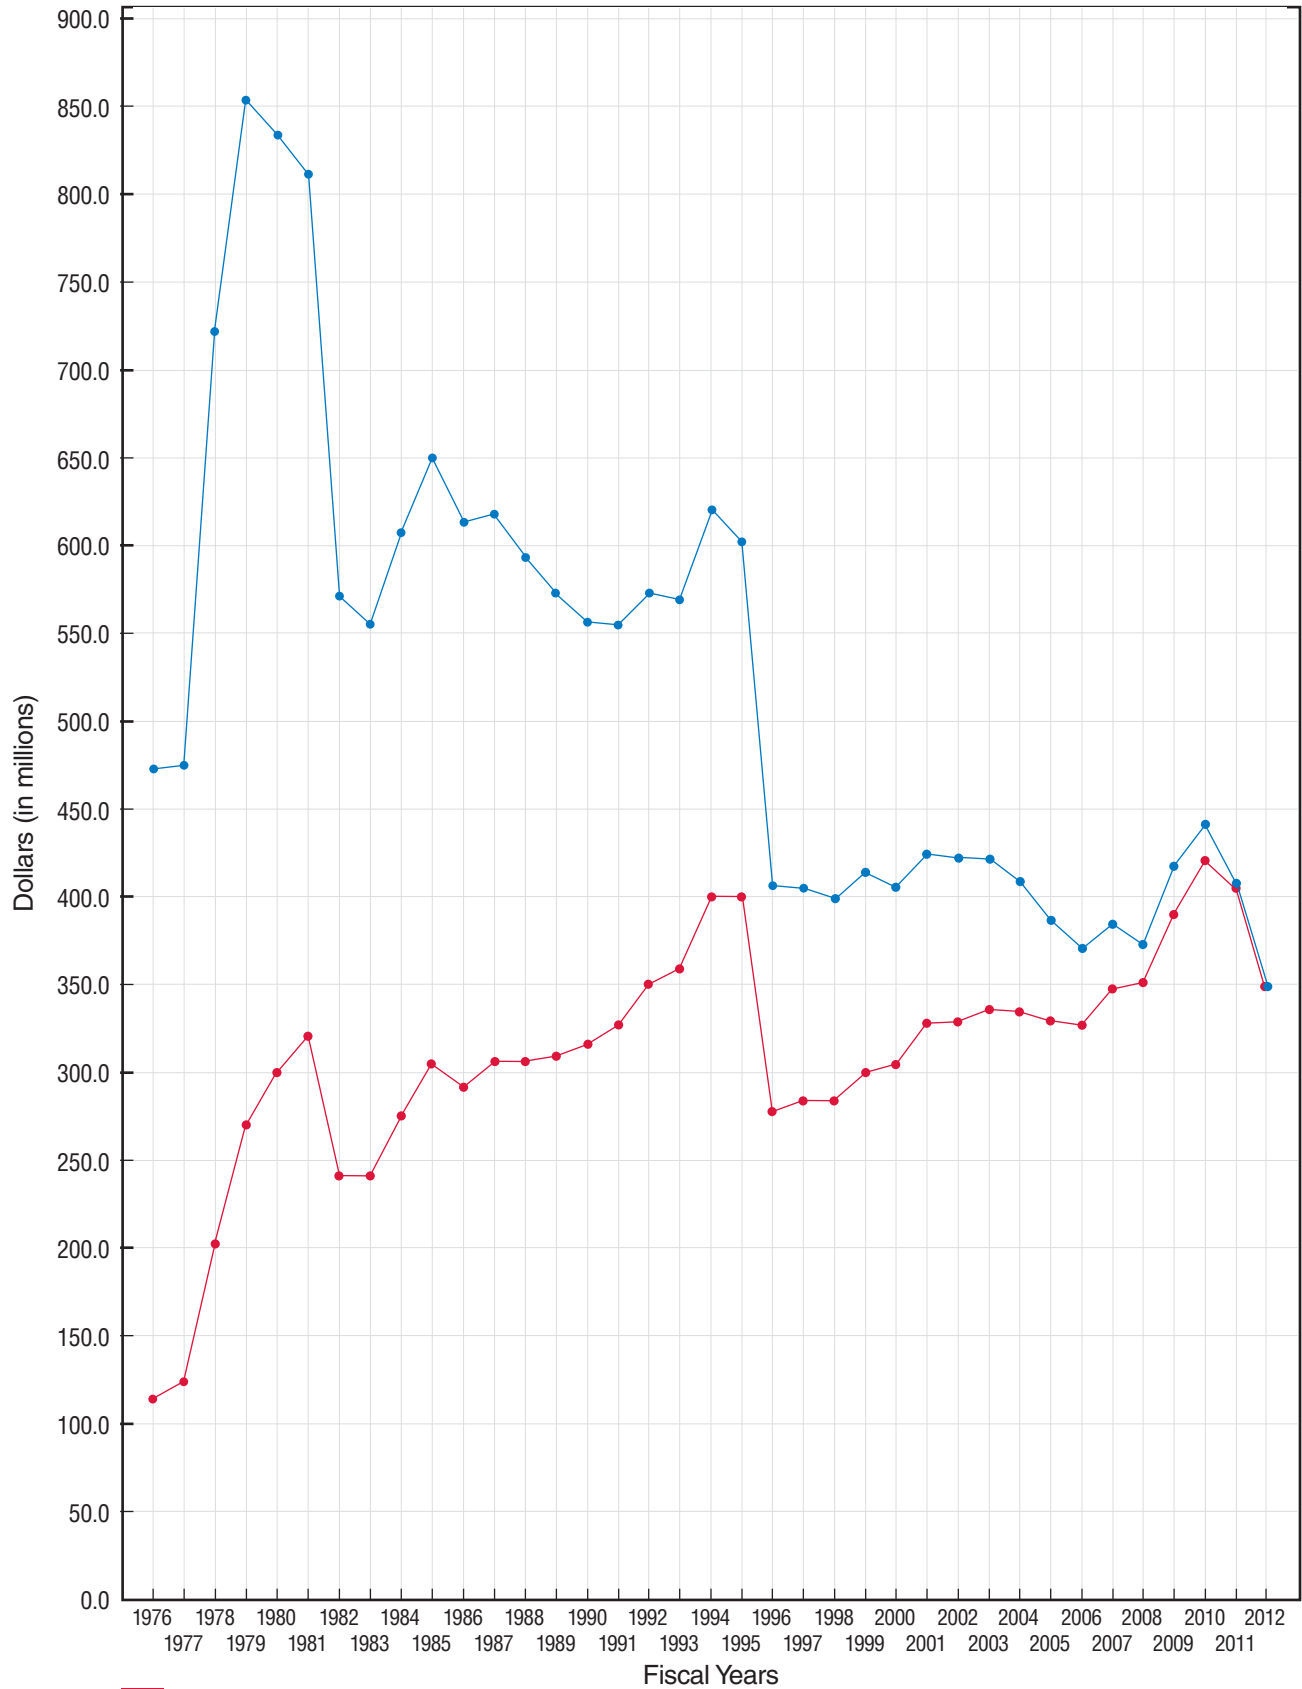

LSC receives an annual appropriation from Congress to make grants to eligible non-profit organizations delivering legal aid to low-income people. LSC awards grants through a competitive process and currently funds 134 legal aid organizations that serve hundreds of thousands of low-income individuals, children, families, seniors, and veterans across America. Funds are distributed on a per-capita basis according to each service area's share of the eligible poverty population.

The federal contribution to civil legal aid does not meet all the eligible population's legal needs; rather, it provides the foundation upon which LSC's grantees can build. LSC grantees supplement federal funds with other resources, such as Interest on Lawyers' Trust Account (IOLTA) funds, state and local funding, grants from philanthropic foundations, and contributions from private donors. They also collaborate with a wide network of private practitioners, bar associations, law schools, access to justice commissions, and business and community organizations to expand legal services to indigent clients.

Constituents Eligible for LSC-Funded Legal Aid

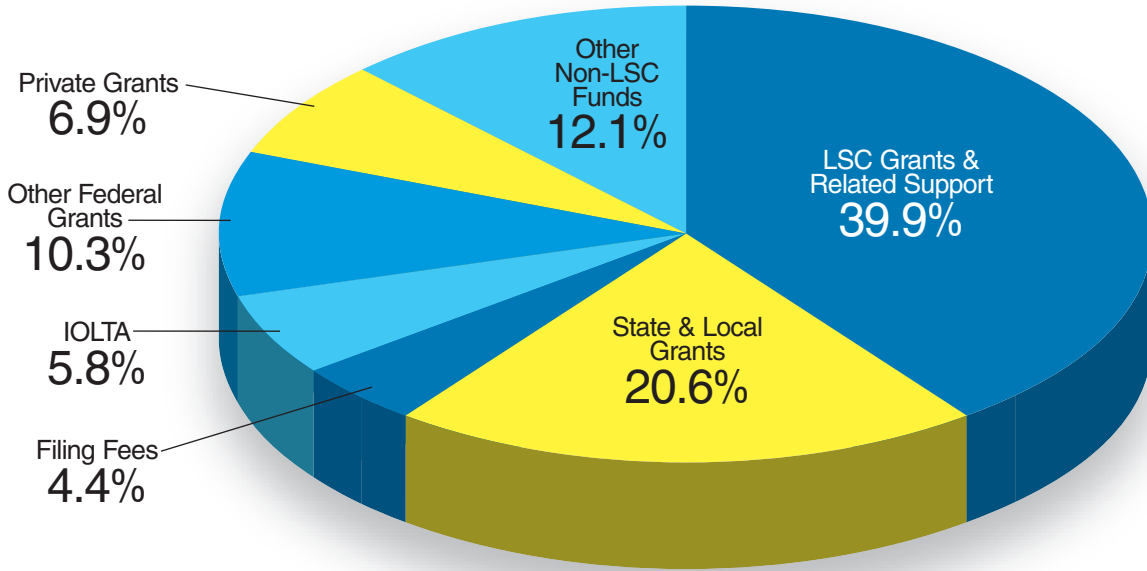

The number of Americans eligible for LSC-funded legal assistance, i.e. those living at or below 125% of the federal poverty line, continues to be near all-time high levels. In 2007, before the economic downturn, 50.8 million Americans were eligible for LSC-funded legal services. In 2012, LSC estimates, based on projections calculated using the U.S. Census Bureau's 2011 poverty data and The Brookings Institution poverty population formula, that nearly one in five—61.8 million Americans—was eligible for services, a 21% increase since 2007. In 2012, these Americans had incomes of no more than $13,963 for an individual and $28,813 for a family of four (at or below 125% of poverty).

The map below shows the geographic concentrations of the eligible client population—those living below 125% of the federal poverty line—in 2011. The following states have the highest concentrations of eligible client populations: Mississippi (29.1%), Louisiana (25.8%), Arkansas (25.4%), Alabama (24.9%), South Carolina (24.7%), Kentucky (24.6%), Georgia (24.5%), and West Virginia (24.2%).

CLIENT SERVICES

LSC grantees handle the basic civil legal needs of the poor, addressing matters involving safety, subsistence, and family stability. Most legal aid practices are focused on family law, including domestic violence, child support and custody, and housing matters, including evictions and foreclosures.

More than a third of all cases closed by LSC grantees are family law cases. LSC grantees help parents obtain and keep custody of their children, extended family members secure guardianship of orphaned and abused children, and victims of domestic violence get protective orders. LSC grantees also work on housing cases to help people stay in their homes, including by avoiding wrongful evictions and foreclosures, renegotiating mortgages, assisting renters whose landlords are being foreclosed upon, and resolving landlord-tenant disputes.

CLIENT DEMOGRAPHICS

The clients LSC grantees serve include individuals of all races, ethnic groups, genders, and ages. They include the working poor, veterans, people with disabilities, and victims of domestic violence.

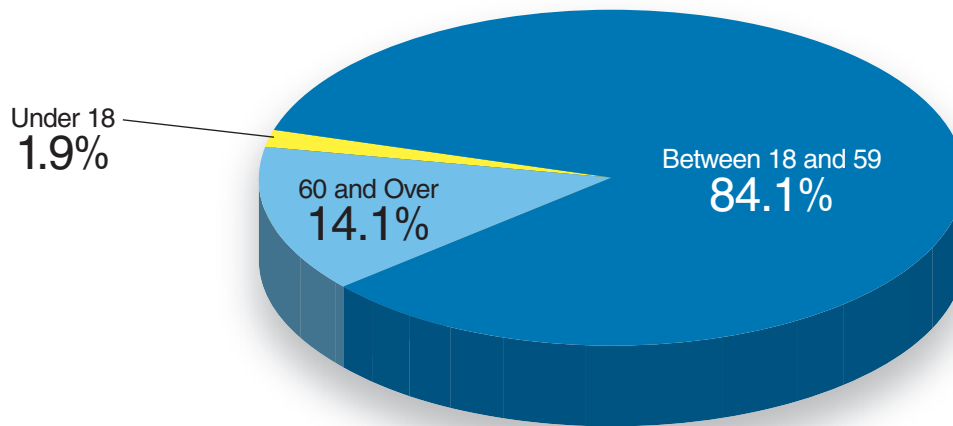

Over two-thirds of LSC clients were women in 2012; the majority were between 18 and 59. Elder clients often require legal assistance because of special health, income, and social needs, especially in coping with the government-administered benefits on which many depend for income and health care.

PRIVATE ATTORNEY INVOLVEMENT

LSC grantees leverage federal funding and maximize the number of clients they serve by involving private attorneys in the delivery of legal services, primarily through provision of services to eligible clients on a volunteer basis. Appropriate pro bono cases are referred to local attorneys who have agreed to represent eligible clients without charge.

In addition to pro bono efforts, grantees involve private attorneys through lawyer referral services sponsored by local bar associations. Such services may refer fee-generating cases to private attorneys in exchange for a commitment to accept pro bono or reduced fee referrals. Grantees also contract with private attorneys to handle individual cases or certain categories of cases, or involve private attorneys as co-counsel in complex cases on a volunteer or contract basis.

STAFFING

As independent non-profit organizations, grantees hire their own staff; grantee staff are not employed by LSC and are not government employees.

In general, legal services attorneys are paid far less than their counterparts in the private sector and significantly less than federal or state government attorneys.

LSC-funded organizations may serve an entire state, a region within a state, or a single city or county. Many grantees maintain multiple offices, while others operate only one office. Some grantees operate part-time satellite offices and run “hotlines” that provide telephone intake, advice, and referral programs to facilitate access to their services over a large geographical area.

ENDNOTES

Examples include communications by letter, telephone or other means to a third party; preparation of a simple legal document such as a routine will or power of attorney. Extensive Service - A case closed in which the program undertook extensive research, preparation of complex legal documents, extensive interaction with third parties on behalf of an eligible client, or extensive on-going assistance to clients who are proceeding pro se should be closed as Extensive Service. Some examples of extensive service include preparation of complex advance directives, wills, contracts, real estate documents or other legal documents, or the provision of extensive transactional work.

¹⁹ Source: Grant Activity Reports – 2012. A case is considered to be one “involving” Domestic Violence if Domestic Violence is in any way a part of the case, even if peripheral. All such cases are reported as “involving” Domestic Violence, but if a client has experienced Domestic Violence but that Domestic Violence does not come up in the actual case, then the case is not counted as “involving” Domestic Violence.

²⁰ Source: Grant Activity Report – 2012. U.S. population calculated from U.S. Census Bureau, 2011 American Community Survey 1-Year Estimates, Table S1703. National data are not strictly comparable with LSC case data because of definitional and other differences in data sets.

²¹ Source: Grant Activity Report – 2012. U.S. population calculated from U.S. Census Bureau, 2011 American Community Survey 1-Year Estimates, Table S1703. Totals by age are not equal to the totals by gender because a few programs were not able to provide complete information.

²² Totals by age and ethnicity are not equal to the totals by gender because a few programs were not able to provide complete information. Also, the total of veterans and non-veterans is less than the totals by age and ethnicity because not all programs were able to collect complete statistics on veteran status of client households in 2012. Note that LSC counts a household as veteran if any member of that household is a veteran. U.S. national population data for ethnicity and age calculated from U.S. Census Bureau, 2011 American Community Survey 1-Year Estimates, Table S1703. National data for ethnicity and age are not strictly comparable with LSC case data because of definitional and other differences in data sets. U.S. national population data for veterans calculated from U.S. Census Bureau, 2011 American Community Survey 1-Year Estimates, Table S2101. National veterans data are not strictly comparable with LSC case data because national veterans data based on civilian population 18 years and older with incomes below 100% of poverty. Data are also from LSC Grant Activity Reports.

²⁴ Source: Grant Activity Reports – 2012. These numbers are limited to actual services reported to LSC and exclude estimated numbers also reported to LSC. Unlike CSR cases, these services are not eligibility checked, although they are targeted to and promoted among the client-eligible population. A CSR case is defined as the provision of permissible legal assistance to an eligible client with a legal problem, or set of closely related legal problems, accepted for assistance in accordance with the requirements of the LSC Act, regulations, and other applicable law.

The total for attorneys includes all attorneys on staff, including the small number (78) of attorneys serving in non-attorney positions (e.g. management professionals who are attorneys). Figures do not include sub-recipient staffing.

²⁹ Source: Grant Activity Reports – 2000-2012. Data for all years include full-time staff members (90% and above). 2012 and 2011 data are for staff employed as of 12/31/12 and 12/31/2011, respectively. 2000-2010 data include staff who worked full time at least six (6) months during the calendar year. The “attorneys” category includes only those serving in attorney positions; it does not include the small number of attorneys serving in non-attorney positions (e.g. management professionals who are attorneys). Figures do not include sub-recipient staffing.
