

PARTNERING FOR THE FUTURE

Black History Month Student Challenge Overview

The 2017 Black History Month Theme:

The Crisis in Black Education – How Am I Impacted?

In celebration of Black History Month, the Legal Services Corporation is sponsoring the “Partnering for the Future Black History Month Student Challenge. Students are invited to submit written or visual arts entries (see specifics below). All entries must be received by no later than 5 p.m., Friday, February 17, 2017. The Legal Services Corporation (LSC) will recognize and award prizes to the winners, and they will be invited to participate in the LSC Black History Month program and luncheon held at LSC.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

LSC requests that school principals, administrators, teachers and other staff support the Challenge by encouraging student participation, as well as by including it in the class curriculum, if possible. Detailed Challenge information and guidelines will be provided.

The Legal Services Corporation’s “Partnering for the Future Black History Month Student Challenge” offers students an opportunity to reflect on and share their thoughts about important events and developments in African American history, and to compete for an award, cash prizes, and special public recognition.

ELIGIBILITY

The Challenge is open to students currently enrolled at schools invited by the Legal Services Corporation to participate.

Participants must be students in good standing, with that status verified by the principal, teacher, guidance counselor or other designated school representative.

CHALLENGE THEME AND CATEGORIES

Student Challenge entries must be representative of the challenge theme The Crisis in Black Education – How Am I Impacted?

Students can make Challenge submissions of their own original work through a variety of medium in one of two categories:

1. Written Submissions – Examples of acceptable written submissions include:

- Essay representative of the theme
- Short story representative of the theme
- Poem representative of the theme

2. Visual Art Submissions – Examples of acceptable visual art submissions include:

- Artwork representative of the theme in a medium of student's choosing (e.g., painting, collage, pen and ink, etc.)
- Photographic illustration representative of the theme
- Video presentation representative of the theme
- Music presentation representative of the theme

Detailed guidelines for each medium are available at <http://www.lsc.gov/lsc-partnering-future-2017-black-history-month-student-challenge>
